David J. Carroll is a Partner in the Los Angeles office. Mr. Carroll's practice focuses on a wide variety of civil litigation, appellate litigation, and internal investigations. Mr. Carroll has handled multiple complex civil matters, including a variety of commercial contract and tort disputes; administrative law and election law matters; complex constitutional law matters, including questions concerning individual rights and the separation of powers; terminations of C-suite executives; and other matters.

Prior to joining the firm, Mr. Carroll served as a Deputy Attorney General in the Office of the California Attorney General. There, he litigated cases in both state and federal court arising from the California correctional system and advised senior state officials on state correctional policy. Mr. Carroll also practiced at a litigation boutique firm, where he represented public entities in employment and constitutional litigation, represented design professionals in commercial construction litigation, and represented contractors in catastrophic injury litigation.

Mr. Carroll earned his B.A. in Philosophy and Psychology from Pitzer College and his J.D., magna cum laude, from Southwestern Law School. While in law school, Mr. Carroll served as a judicial extern for the Honorable Arthur L. Alarcon of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit; he was Lead Articles Editor for the Southwestern Law Review; he obtained the highest class grade for Antitrust Law and Products Liability; and he placed second in Southwestern's Intramural Moot Court Appellate Brief Writing Competition. After law school, Mr. Carroll served as a law clerk for the Honorable Otis D. Wright, II of the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California.
